JACKS WIN ONE

Last Saturday night Grayling basketball fans were treated to some high-class playing, when the Grayling Lumberjacks downed the Oscoda Indies for one game and wound up the evening by playing the Thomas Lunch of Saginaw. Oscoda was scheduled to play here that night and through some misunderstanding the Thomas Lunch team showed up also. So the Jacks showed themselves to be the real sports they always are and gave the fans a double bill for the price of one.

Oscoda was the first to take the floor against the Jacks and the latter found them easy victims, for before the half had ebbed away they had the victory cinched for the evening. An early lead was all that was required and the score 39 to 16 told the story of a onesided contest. It was not the sort of game that was expected for Grayling Jacks having had a tough time to win by one point on Os-coda's floor recently in two overtime periods were planning on a much closer game. Oscoda's big scoring ace DeLong was not in the were somewhat tired out, but that they made a good showing against professionals for the Thomas Lunch are rated as such The visitors were a much huskier bunch; they were very smooth in their passing, and their teamwork and teamwork was good but the height and many a basket was made over a guard's head. Schmitz for the visitors showed some clever basket shooting, making 16 points as his part towards the score. Neal seemed to be trying to outdo Schmitz as he contributed 13 points and these were the first 13 points made by the home team. It seemed when he got the ball into his hands it meant a basket and the fans held their breath each time, and the old leather would plunge through. In the Oscoda game Hendrickson too went on a big scoring spree, contributing 16 points. Thomas Lunch expressed a desire to return here again, before the season is over for a game with the Jacks whom they knew they had the advantage over in the Jacks having had to play two hard games in one eve-

The Oscoda fellows dreaded making the trip back to Oscoda because of the cold weather and were invited to remain for the night, members of the team taking them home with them. The two visiting teams too enjoyed the dance at the Temple that night.

WONDER WHY THE TAX PLAN COMES BEFORE STATE EXPENSES ARE CUT

Lansing, Mich.—Just why Governor Comstock put in his plan to raise additional taxes for the state before he gave the legislature his economy program no one around the state house has been able to figure out. It had been anticipated that the new administration to figure out. It had been anticipated that the new administration would first use the pruning knife on state expenses, and institutions in order to arrive at some general knowledge of just how much it would cost to operate the schools, hospitals, and prisons per year. Some members of the legislature have declared that before they act upon the new tax plan submitted by Governor Comstock, they desire first to know just how much the costs of running the state are going to be cut.

are going to be cut.

"We must know something of the economy program before we

"We must know something of the economy program before we go ahead with plans to raise more taxes," stated one veteran member of the legislature after he had read the Governor's message.

It is possible, say some legislative members, that the Governor may have in mind the use of the entire program of the old Legislative Commission that has been presented by Representatives Gus Hartman and V. J. Brown. In fact he has suggested that the legislature give consideration to these recommendations which provide a cut of over six millions of dollars in state expenses. One of the commission's bills has already been passed, a bill that puts an end to the state building program started four or five years ago. There has always been some doubt as to the advisability of such an elaborate building program as was started, but it is now over with.

Last fall Governor Comstock declared that he would recommend to the legislature a way for the state to operate its affairs without the payment of a general property tax. Many of his opponents said no such plan could be devised. They now have the plan, which provides for a general sales tax in Michigan.

The governor plans to raise $35,000,000 by a general sales tax. Those who have figured it out, say this will represent about a three per cent tax on everything that is sold.

This estimate is apparently arrived from the figures gathered in per cent tax on everything that is sold.

This estimate is apparently arrived from the figures gathered in 1929 by the department of commerce in Washington. For the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1929, the total retail sales in Michigan amounted to $2,220,000,000. These are the last figures gathered by the government on retail sales in Michigan. It is apparent however that Governor Comstock and those who have figured out the new sales tax plan have estimated a drop of just half of what the retail sales were in Michigan in 1929.

Local merchants who have been consulted agree that this estimate is about right.

Members of the legislature who have anticipated that the governor would recommend a sales tax to take the place of a general property tax and have given the matter some thought, express the idea that a sales tax of three per cent would prove an injury to business and work to the direct benefit of mail order houses. Of course the three per cent figure has not yet been established, but those who have figured out the plan say that this must be somewhere near the amount the administration has in mind because of the amount of money the governor says a sales tax will raise.

If the 1933 legislature adopts a general sales tax program to take the place of the real estate tax, it will be the first time in the history of the state that real estate will never have been taxed.

To the victors belong the spoils is an old political saying that has never meant much in Michigan. Changing Republican administrations paid no attention to the politics of the individual. Even Gov. Ferris, the last Democratic governor preceding the present administration, gave little attention to the politics of men appointed. As an indication of how little attention Republican governors thought of the political alliances of an individual, the messenger that Gov. Ferris brought with him to the executive office served through all Republican administrations until the arrival of ex-Gov. Brucker, who relieved him of his duties. But things are different now. Unemployment in the state has created such a terrific demand for jobs that even though Governor Comstock and the other new Democratic state officials should desire to keep many of the old state employes, it would be hard for them to do so. Possibly never at any time in history has such pressure been brought to bear upon a governor for jobs as faced Governor Comstock. Therefore jobs must be provided.

A. K. Grant, whose politics no one ever knew just what they were, A. K. Grant, whose politics no one ever knew just what they were, is no longer associated with the state government. When former Governor Sleeper created the budget commission with the idea of centralizing the state purchasing for all institutions, he wanted some one who had had some experience in institutional buying. Mr. Grant was then the buyer for the Kalamazoo State hospital. Gov. Sleeper didn't know whether Grant was a Democrat or Republican. Grant had had a job in Kalamazoo before and during the Ferris administration, but Gov. Sleeper knew that Grant had the knowledge and experience for the job he had in mind for him. So Grant becomes to Lansing and started work for the budget commisand experience for the job he had in mind for him. So Grant was brought over to Lansing and started work for the budget commission. Out of this move by Gov. Sleeper came the more and larger purchasing department established during the Groesbeck administration, with Grant still on the job. The finger of suspicion has never been pointed at Grant or the department. The other night as he was leaving his office for home, the new secretary of the administrative board stopped Grant and told him not to return in the morning. A Democrat is now on the job.

With the housecleaning that is taking place in Lansing, there is now and then a bit of tragedy written into the story. The new head of one of the departments called one of the older bookkeepers in his office the other day and told her she was fired. "But I am a widow and have two children to support. I have got to have work, and where else can I go now to find employment?" she protested. "Well if it will be any consolation to you, all of the rest of them in there will be out of a job in a few days," was the response.

BELLEVUE PUBLISHER GOES THRU ICE ON HOUGHTON LAKE

G. W. Brown, publisher of the Gazette, had a narrow escape last Thursday morning when the Ford coupe he was driving crashed through thin ice on Houghton lake and sank in about eight feet of water and muck. Mr. Brown went down with the car but was able to extricate himself, coming to the surface and by grasping the edge of solid ice was able to hang on until several nearby fishermen came to his rescue. The accident occurred about a mile off shore. Using a beaten path across the ice over which more than a hundred other cars had passed that day, Mr. Brown was return-ing to shore when a fish house, driven across the ice by the heavy wind that swept the lake struck the front bumper of his car, throwing the machine from its course and onto a patch of ice which later proved to be not more than two inches in thickness. The ice on other parts of the lake measured from 18 to 20 inches in thickness. C. H. Denman, who ac-companied Mr. Brown-on the fishand doing a general housedeaning. President Von Hindenburg dissolved the reichstag Wednesday and ordered new elections for March 5. The Nazis are confident that they will then obtain a clear majority in the parliament. Speaking over the radio. Hitler promised his government would save the farmers and provide jobs for the "army of idle created in fourteen years of Marxist mismanagement in Germany." The Socialists and Communists planned a united front against Hit ler and threatened a general strike. Of course there were many encounters between the elated Nazis and their foes, with a few deaths and considerable bloodshed. Dr. Wilhelm Frick, the new Nazi minister of the interior, said the government would oppose the strike plans with the sharnest measures.

Since the Nazis are mostly anti-semites an exodus of Jews from Germany is predicted. Indeed, many Jews already are leaving the country on various pretexts.

The revolt against excessive taxation, in evidence in most countries of the civilized world, was marked in France by two enormous demon strations during the week. The first was a meeting of nearly 15,000 substantial business men representing 750 syndicates and commercial and industrial interests throughout the country: A resolution was adopted declaring that taxation is strangling the country's business and announce ing that if the new government attempts to increase the burden of taxation all interests represented will shut down their shops and plants.

A second meeting was held by smaller merchants, artisans and industrials not included in the above association. They adopted a sim ilar resolution and backed it up by marching in small groups to the chamber of deputies, where the ringleaders were arrested

INSTEAD of trying to get a comprehensive farm relief program through the short session, the Dem ocratic leaders in congress are now concentrating on jegislation to pre vent farm foreclosures. This was made plain by Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas in testimony before a senate subcommittee that was considering various farm mortgage relief bills. The bill which Senator Robinson thought should be taken as the basis of a mensure to half foreclosures is the Hull bill, which would give the R. F. C. $1,000,000,000 of federal money to be used in paying off farm mortgage holders, the farmer then agreeing to pay the government on easie terms,

FARMERS of middle western states continued their efforts to halk mortgage foreclosures on farm lands and property, and in many instances they were successful, either preventing the sales or buying in the properties for a few cents and returning them to the owners.

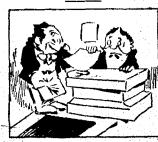

Responding to a request from the governor of Iowa, the New York Life Insurance company appounced that it had suspended foreclosures on farm properties in that state. Other companies took similar action. In Nebraska Governor Bryan named a board of conciliation to attempt to bring debtors and credftors together and obtain fair settlements. Farm leaders said this plan was no good.

WAH'KON-TAH

(By John Joseph Mathews) So beautifully written is "Wah'-Kon-Tah," a piece of epic stature by John Joseph Mathews, that when the great literary works of 1932 are recorded it must surely hold a place. Based upon the memories and understanding of both a white leader and an Indian author, the volume is an exposition of Indian life that brings interest in formerly held little acquaintance.

As government agent, Laban J. Miles, in 1878, moved among the Osage Tribe of Plains Indians to serve as their leader, adviser and tribe brought to him an under- of the red man are vividly describ activity of his life. measurable depth for inspiration.

In 1932, when Miles died, he had lived to see the Osages demoralized by the sudden wealth of the Oklahoma oil fields. Although the author touches on it with fine hands, this fact is the one tragic instrument of a splendid book.

An Indian, Mr. Mathews' approaches his subject without pre-judice. His straight-forward style deals alike with early white set tlers of atavistic nature, and the frailities of many of his own race a world with which the reader From the memoirs of Mr. Miles and from his own experiences he has compiled a book new in his toric narrative

POTPOURRI

Canniable

Cannibalism has been practiced at one time or another in many countries. Thought to have originated first as a religious rite, an appetite for human flesh eventually developed. Columbus found man-enting tribes in the West Indies and an Italian writer of the Thirteenth century Marco Polo, mentioned such practices. Early North American Indians often ate their prisoners.

WORLD'S LARGEST PRISON

At Jackson, the State of Michigan has erected the largest single branch prison in the entire world. Its current list of innuates totals nearly 6,000 men and boys. Within its walls is a veritable crosssection of humanity, as revealed in some statistics recently compiled and published in "School News," a prison "house organ" issued each week. For instance, here are a few of the most interesting revelations of the inmate body:

In the Michigan state prison there are confined, as inmates, three physicians, four pharmacists three lawyers, seven bankers, 264 clerks, nine civil engineers, 73 firemen, 25 musicians, two motion picture operators, 35 printers, three photographers, 109 salesmen, 30 structural iron workers, ne veterinarian.

> Almost half of all conserva tion law violators apprehended in Michigan last month were placed on probation, were given suspended sentences or had their fines remitted so reports the state conservation commission. Why not extend that kind of leniency to pank robbers, high jackers, chicken thieves and all other kinds of aw breakers? isn't it just as much a crime robbing our state or one of its principal assets, game and fish, as it is to rob a citizen of his principal asset? That kind of treatment of conseravtion law violators, together with the same kind of soft consideration shown riquor law violators all adds to the encouragement of a general disrespect for all laws. DEPT. OF STATE

The number of private detect ive agencies in Michigan has decreased over 30 per cent in the past three years, records of the nrivate detective Michigan.

The department is allowed to issue licenses only after the stringent regulations of the law have been compiled with. In the case of individuals, applications tor a private detective license while there are good men who may must be approved by the county prosecutor and sheritt or chief of police and by "five reputable citizens" who must certify that they have known the applicant for five years. In addition to the individual license fee of $50 the applicant must furnish a bond for $5,000.

The law requires that the president, secretary and treasurer of corporations desiring licenses, each obtain the favorable endorsement of "five reputable citizens." For corporations the license fee s $200 and the bond is required in the amount of $10,000.

Many of the private detective agencies licensed in former years have notified the department that they are unable to obtain proper and have not sought to renew their licenses.

Act 281 of the Public Acts of 1927 gives the Department of State the power to grant any lodge, order, society or fraternal society the exclusive use of a badge or insignia of the organization, upon receipt of a proper application and a $5 fee. But six Michigan organizations have taken advantage of this statute, at the rate of one application per investigation into the strike in the Briggs Body plant. A few of his statements about this strike: especially the amounts he quoted as wages, paid certain employees were positively dramatic in their power to influence the emotions. We learned long ago that there are always two sides to every story. If Mr. Thomas is correct, what he did say is a great tribute to the ability of our workers to continue law abiding and orderly in these tragic times. He cited the great educational system of the nation as an example of what the people might do in the operation of the coal mines, utilities, etc. for the benefit of all, which is the socialist goal. The speaker said eight New York banks and their interlocking directorates control the wealth of the country. One of many startling claims is that the Player, Pos. Whether we like it or not, people are get-ting restless. Human beings are hungry and yet we have every thing in an abundance. It is an easy time to win converts in these days of doubt and confusion Capitalism is on trial in America Whatever comes politically and in country that the socialist party is in the hands of a man of mitted ability of Mr. Thomas who at one time was a student of former President Wilson, when he was president of Princeton.— Charlotte Republican.

KEEP IT HONEST

We heartily agree with Senator Couzens' proposal for a rather searching investigation into the activities of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation even though there is no particular reason to suspect deliberate fraud. This corporation is doing business on such a gigantic scale, however, that public airings at frequent intervals will be entirely in order The R. F. C. to date has undoubtedly accomplished useful work in easing the shock of numerous business failures and in holstering up our credit system. However the corporation was only intended to be a temporary one and we believe the senate should be especially careful to see that it does not outlive its usefulness. If the R. F. C. should ever be converted into a political football the United States would be in for some staggering losses. Already in this country we hear proposals to liberalize the restrictions for R.F.C convenient gateway for credit, who of potential dangers to keep going any longer than necessary. There-
